The Doctor's Advice to An Unfortunate Woman

"NOW, doctor," she said after he had made a careful examination, "I want you to tell me the truth. Don't please don't keep anything back." He shook his head and replied: "Do you fully realize what you are asking me to do? Think again." "Yes, yes," she insisted; "I want to know the truth. Don't keep anything from me. Tell me the worst." "It is very bad. I'm afraid you will never forgive me after I've spoken out." "No, no, no! Don't think that I understand how you feel. Come, I must know. You must not keep me in suspense, doctor. You are cruel!" "Well, if you insist on knowing the worst, it is my opinion that a regular course of dishwashing, bedmaking and sweeping is the only thing that will save you from weighing 160 pounds inside of five years." Realizing that her worst fears had been as naught compared with the terrible truth, the unfortunate woman fell back among her pillows and gave up all hope.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Points on Artillery.

"Here!" exclaimed the ne'er do well as he perused the book on artillery tactics. "This foolish book says, 'The victim can never see the discharge coming in time to dodge,' etc. That's a mistake! Why, once when I was working for a big gun I saw a discharge coming long enough ahead to write a resignation before it reached me."—Baltimore American.

25 YEARS OF AGONY ENDED

Boston Business Man Cured By Cuticura of Awful Humor Covering Head, Neck, and Shoulders After Hospital and Doctors Failed.

Under date of September 9, 1904, Mr. S. P. Keyes, a well-known business man of No. 149 Congress Street, and small, that to my friends, and even to my wife, I became an object of dread. At large expense I consulted the most able doctors far and near. Their treatment was of no avail, nor was that of the hospital, during six months' efforts. I suffered on and concluded there was no help for this side of the grave. Then I heard of some one who had been cured by Cuticura, and thought that a trial would do no harm. In a surprisingly short time I was completely cured."

CUTICURA—THE SET, $1.
